

Traditional wedding of the Red Dao in Bat Xat district of Lao Cai province is among cultural beauties of this unique ethnic minority group.

According to Dao custom, the groom is not present in the bridal procession but in return, many wedding formalities showing his family's respect for the bride are held at the groom's home.□

From the Dao custom, the groom must wear a woman's costume with a scarf covering his face.

While in the Dao tradition, the procession from the bride's family stops for the
